

Of all the 10969 days that I have spent on this planet, seldom have I come across a person more talented, responsible, audacious, faithful, beautiful, caring, cute, funny and a bigger foodie than you are !!! I love you so much for all the things that you are, you have no clue. I feel lucky and fortunate to have you in my life and will cherish our memories forever.

Ever since I saw you online, I distinctly remember telling my roommate that 'she's the One, ... I am going to get hooked to'. He chuckled back then in negligence but a couple months down the lane, he knew that I was the man of my words.

It's a pleasure to be with you and every day seems to be a blessing the god has secretly dawned upon me. I wish that days were longer and work was lesser. I miss even when I am just feet away from you, this is extent of my bond with you. Before you came into my life, love was stranger tide for me, I was sailing alone with no clue of the direction or the pace. You came in and cheered me up, tidied me and made me realize my potential. I will always thank you for that.

The thing I admire about you the most is your ability to sail even through the toughest of situations. While others might have sunk their heads in despair, you are always optimistic and problems seem to fade away. You have been always a rebel and you have seen some of the toughest days in life, but have always kept channeling your energies in the right direction. You have never shied away from embracing your responsibilities and always support your family and friends alike. If people start behaving as responsibly and audaciously as you do, the world be a better place. You have carved a niche for yourself inspite of going against the winds and nobody can take that away from you. You are a source of inspiration for many.

I feel like a kid sometimes when I am with you and its pretty necessary for me to bring that kid out every once in a while, given the tensions we go through. I know, we have had our share of fights every now and then and that situations have gone from bad to worse many times. but we have always managed to recuperate.

All thanks to me !!!

I want to spend my life with you and lead a happy and a cheerful life. I know that you had a bout of rough patch recently and its quite unfortunate, but I want to tell you that every cloud has a silver lining and that I will always be out there to cheer you up and take care of you.

And last but not the least 'HAPPY BIRTHDAY'.
Enjoy your day and make it the best memory.
